Football buddy betslip generator

Interaction notes These screens show the football buddy betslip generator. As codes are generated a numbered red dot will be animated to the wallet to inform the user.

Wallet icon empty
 A wallet has been added to the results page, here the user can confirm his bet, enter a value into the field which generates a return and then click the main CTA to generate a code.

2. Wallet icon bet slip added After the user has clicked to generate a code an animation takes place showing the numbered red dot being added to the wallet. The user can now click on the wallet icon to be taken to the football buddy code page where they can view the bet receipt and scan a bar code at the counter in order to place a bet.

3. Breadcrumb

3. Breadcrumb After viewing the bet receipt the user can navigate back to the previous screen where they can place the same bet again but for a different stake or navigate to view other results as seen in the tabbed menu. If the user try's to place the same bet again for the same stake there is no action as the bet has already been added to the wallet.

4. Remove CTA The user can remove generated codes via this link found in the right hand side of the accordion header.

5. Wallet icon additional bets added As additional bets are generated and added from the results page the user can see how many each time when the red numbered dot is animated into the wallet. The user can again click the wallet to view all codes generated on the football buddy code page.

6. Code headers The user is shown the latest generated bet and the additional generated bets are shown as closed accordion headers indicated by the inverted chevron and labeled accordingly. The user can click to open the bet receipt closing the other generated code.
